FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ocean County Business Association Installs New President
Elects New Board of Trustees for 2010-2012

(Toms River, July 1, 2010) Chuck Laing of Chuck Laing Construction Consultant, LLC was installed as president of the Ocean County Business Association last week. Serving with him are first vice president Jim Everett, Toms River Locksmith; second vice president, Harry Levin, Levin Cyphers; treasurer. Pete Ferro, Ameritel Communications; and secretary Glenn VanPell, Hutchins, Farrell, Meyer & Allison, P.A.

In addition, Steve Pollack, Pollack Health & Wellness Inc.; Sheree Robinson, Shaklee Products; and Chris Rosati, FWH Associates were elected to the organization's board of trustees for two-year terms, joining current board member Paul Losseff, Holiday Opticians / Holiday Plaza Hearing Aid Center and past president Lisa McComsey. Gerald Rodelli of Pressto Graphics was elected to a one-year term. Laing also appointed Chad White of Safe Harbor Wealth Management to the board; the presidential appointee serves a one-year term.

Founded in 1980, the OCBA is a category-exclusive organization, which assembles business owners and corporate decision makers in Ocean County. The group meets twice a month for lunch in Toms River, where individuals network, exchange leads and referrals, and hear craft talks on members' businesses. The group also sponsors a traveling speakers' bureau and disseminates a business magazine to people in the community.

Anyone interested in becoming a member is invited to call 866-606-OCBA (6222) for meeting times and information, or visit the Web site at www.OceanCountyBusinessAssociation.com.
